Testimonials

I brought my incentive group to the green o twice in 2022 and saying we're excited to be back in 2023 would be an understatement. With exceptionally knowledgeable and talented staff, pre-planning and operation was as enjoyable as any of the incredible dishes Chef Brandon Cunningham creates. Between the location, food & beverage and activities available, our guests never wanted to leave. the green o is the place to be if you're looking to create unique and unforgettable memories for your group.

I've been with the IRF for three years, and this was my 10th board meeting. I've never heard the group rave so much about a destination. We were discussing in our meeting how much it aligns to our research findings - unique, special, feels like a whole other place, but in the US, wide open space, good for mental and physical health, and loads of ways to customize.

The team at Paws Up went above and beyond to ensure that our Staff Retreat was a success. Our group of 40 spent a full week in the Luxury Ranch Homes enjoying the incredible beauty of the grounds and taking advantage of the many unique activities offered.

From the Cattle Drive excursion to the Mustang Show and private group dinners at The Saddle Club, it was a once in a lifetime experience. The food was an absolute treat, accommodations were luxurious and the hospitality was top notch.

I've been hosting executive retreats and VIP programs for 10 years, and no other place has come anywhere close to delivering the atmosphere or level of service we experienced at Paws Up. I couldn't possibly give enough applause to the work you all put in to make every single interaction and experience an absolute pleasure. From first inquiry all the way through planning and execution, you've set the bar for top notch service. I've never been so taken care of from both a guest and event planning perspective.

You, your team, and all Paws Up staff are truly best of breed. There must be something in the Montana water that makes you all exceptional human beings.
